

Sleep is Serious Business

How United Sleep Medicine turned Dr. Said Soubra's dream of opening a sleep lab into a reality!

Promising their patients “we care about every breath you take,” Williamson Pulmonary was ready to take their suite of patient services to a higher level. With a Board Certification in Sleep Medicine, Dr. Said Soubra began an online search for the ideal resource of sleep lab management.

Knowing that he did not want the burden and headache of managing a business plan, space design, human resources, technical staffing and training, and equipment procurement to fall on the practice, Dr. Soubra searched for the best way to contract those services. When he found United Sleep Medicine, he knew he had found the experienced partner in sleep medicine his patients deserved.

Dr. Soubra reports a seamless integration of services, with no “hiccups,” from the very start. United Sleep Medicine Sleep Lab Services provided an orientation, staff and tech hiring, along with patient flow from the beginning. And now, he says the day-to-day has been smooth and exactly as he expected and desired.

“The two most important aspects I wanted were quality and reliability. I have found with United Sleep Medicine timely studies with minimum reading time turnarounds. They allow me to treat and care for my patients within a best practice model to achieve optimum outcomes.”

Dr. Soubra continues, “Our sleep practice rate of improvement is on a very good slope. I have a good vision of a future with more and more opportunities through United Sleep Medicine. “

“After reviewing ten resources and interviewing five, I chose United Sleep Medicine Sleep Lab Management because they had the know-how and expertise we wanted.” — Dr. Said Soubra, M.D., Board Certified in Pulmonary Disease, Critical Care, and Sleep Medicine
